

S.S.S. CURES RHEUMATISM

The usual cause of Rheumatism is an excess of uric acid in the blood which weakens and acidifies this vital fluid, and prevents the proper amount of nourishment being afforded the muscles, nerves and tendons. The pains and aches of Rheumatism may be temporarily relieved by the use of liniments, hot applications, and other external treatments, but the disease cannot be permanently benefited by such measures and is bound to become chronic and dangerous if such things are depended upon alone. S.S.S. cures Rheumatism in the only way it is possible to cure the disease. It goes down into the blood, and removes the uric acid from the circulation. When S.S.S. has cleansed and purified the blood the pains and aches cease, all inflammation disappears, and every symptom of Rheumatism passes away. Book on Rheumatism and medical advice free. S.S.S. is for sale at drug stores. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

AMUSEMENTS

COLISEUM.

Another amateur night! It's to be Monday evening at the Coliseum, and though it won't be the only big feature at that popular playhouse that evening, it is expected to create something of a stir among those who have stage ambitions, particularly those who fancy that they can throw their feet a bit. For this is to be an amateur dancing contest.

Mr. Brown of Brown & Wilmot, "The Dancing Paragons," is offering the prize, which is $5. Mr. Brown is undoubtedly one of the best dancers alive and is always on the lookout for good talent in his line. He says that there is no reason in the world why there shouldn't be some famous dancers in the embryonic state right here in Phoenix, and he hopes to discover some Monday night.

Another big feature of Monday night's bill is the moving picture, entitled "The Peril of Diaz." These pictures give something of an idea of what might have happened to Mexico had it become necessary for Uncle Sam to interfere in the late revolution. They show the mobilization of United States army troops, their maneuvers and camps on the border, and all the details of camp life, as well as the details of preparations for war. In connection with the war pictures, other pictures of scenes taken while traveling in Mexico will be shown. All moving pictures will be changed Monday evening.

There was a change of program at the Coliseum last night. Brown & Wilmot did new dances and sang new songs. Matt Kolb of Kolb & Miller did a comedy cartoon skit, while his partner did a monologue and song turn. Lynette sang new songs and changed her program of classical piano music.

Now for next week, for the bill opening Thursday night. Frechette & Frigone are expected to be the headliners—they have been headliners in vaudeville theaters east and west. They are billed as "The Professional Kids" and do a singing, talking and dancing turn that is distinctly out of the ordinary, being far from the stereotyped "s. t. d." act.

The other attractions are to be John Moore, "The German Jurist," and Shomer duo. The Shomers do a marvelous act of equilibrium. Nothing like their act is put on by any other vaudeville or circus aggregation. Their most remarkable feat is done with their teeth. This act is expected to be one of the most unique of an athletic nature ever seen at the Coliseum.

A Difference After the Bet

There was an aged Scotchman who by native shrewdness made a fortune, and he did it without the slightest bit of education. One day he and an acquaintance were talking, when the latter said to old Duncan:

"Say, Duncan, you don't know enough to go in when it rains. Why, you can't even spell bird."

"B-u-r-d," said Duncan.

"I tell you you don't know anything. Why, if you had to spell to make a living you'd have been dead years ago. I'll bet you a hundred you can't spell bird."

"I'll take ye," quickly replied Duncan. After the money was put up Duncan said, "B-i-r-d."

"That ain't the way you spelled it the first time."

"I wasn't bettin' then."

The chief officer of the Vienna sanitary board has sent a communication to the mayor calling his attention to the danger of the plague which is raging furiously in some parts of the world and which has for its distributors and successful partner the rat. He urges the necessity for systematic warfare on the pest, particularly the ship rat, which is easily the source of disease most to be feared. Once on shore these infected rats with their complement of fleas can soon do much harm. The report asks for a vigorous war by means of poison, hostile animals and traps.

SPECIAL DISTRICTS REMAIN INTACT

Decision of Judge Kent in Glendale Land Company Case.

The special road districts, in this county at least were not wiped out of existence by the law of 1909 creating the office of county road superintendent nor where the functions of the trustees of special districts abolished or transferred to the superintendent. That was decided yesterday by Judge Kent in granting a peremptory writ in the case of the Glendale Land company against County Treasurer Babbitt, directing him to pay a claim of $16 held by the applicant and which had been approved by the trustees of special road district No. 3.

In granting the writ, Judge Kent said that the mere wording of the law of 1909 apparently abolished the districts; or at least transferred to the superintendent the duties hitherto performed by the trustees; it also apparently gave the superintendent control of the streets and alleys of incorporated towns, but in the opinion of the court it was not the intent of the legislature to confer such powers upon the superintendent nor was it the purpose of the legislature to interfere with the special road districts.

GROUND BROKEN FOR FEDERAL BUILDING

Consolidated Transfer Company Now Excavating for the Basement.

Ground was broken yesterday for the construction of the new federal building. The contract for excavating for the foundation and basement has been let to the Consolidated Transfer Co., and C. Lauver, with a few men and teams, was engaged yesterday in breaking up the surface of the lot which has been used so long as a cross path it is nearly as hard as a road.

The excavation will be only six feet deep as the basement of the building is to be utilized and will come some distance above the ground to secure light and ventilation. The building will stand at the northeast corner of the lot and will be very close to the sidewalk line. The southwest corner of the excavation just reaches the old excavation made originally for the Y. M. C. A. before the plans were changed.

WHY THEY'RE ABSENT MINDED.

Absorption in Work Has Made the Forgetful Professor a Joke.

Absorption in their work is often carried to such extremes as to make men of genius strangely oblivious to what is going on around them, says a writer in Ainslee's Magazine. Many amusing stories are told illustrative of this tendency to "absent-mindedness." According to Sir David Brewster, when Newton left a room to get anything, he usually returned without it.

The physicist Roselle was notoriously absent-minded. One day, while performing a laboratory experiment, he said to his students:

"You see, gentlemen, this could not over the flame? Well, if I were to cease stirring it, an explosion would at once occur that would make us all jump."

As he spoke he involuntarily ceased stirring and his prediction was fulfilled. The explosion took place with a frightful noise, every window in the laboratory was broken and Roselle's audience fled wildly outside.

It is related of a gifted ecclesiastic, Bishop Munster, that, returning home and finding his door placarded with the announcement: "The master of the house is out," he calmly remained in front of the door, awaiting his own return.

Buxton, the mathematical prodigy, during a visit to London was taken to see Garrick in "King Richard III." Afterward, being asked how he liked the play, said he really did not know what it had been about, as he had been too busy counting the words spoken by the different actors, and the number of times each went in and out.

Ampere, in a moment of preoccupation, penciled a problem on the back of a cab standing in the street, and was vastly astonished when the starting of the cab caused his problem to disappear. Lombroso, says much the same thing happened to Giola, who, in the excitement of composition, wrote a chapter on the top of his bureau instead of on paper.

From the Brooklyn Eagle.

A mad horse that had been "barking like a dog," according to its owner, was shot and killed by Patrolman Costin of the Alexander avenue police station, in the stable yard of John A. Armstrong, a contractor of 246 East One Hundred and Forty-sixth street. The horse was bitten by a small dog six weeks ago, and gnawed away a large portion of the stall. The "barking" of the animal attracted hundreds of persons to the stable, and when it attempted to gnaw its way through the door of its stall Mr. Armstrong summoned two veterinarians, who pronounced the animal mad and declared he was suffering from rabies, probably as the result of being bitten by the dog several weeks ago.

Folks Past Fifty Must Use 'Cascarets'

What Glasses are to Weak Eyes, Cascarets are to Weak Bowels. Old People Need Them and the Need is Only Natural

You old people—Cascarets are particularly for you. You who don't exercise as much as you need to. You who like the easy chair. You whose steps are slow, and whose muscles are less elastic. You must realize that your bowels have also become less active.

Don't regard Cascarets as physic. They stimulate the bowels just as some foods will do; just as exercise would do, if you took enough of it. They are not harsh, like salts and cathartics. The help which they give to weak bowels is just as natural and gentle as the spur of youth.

When eyes grow dim, you help them. Do the same with the bowels when age makes them less active. There is nothing more important. Costive bowels mean the decaying food is clogged there. And the ducts of the bowels suck its poisons into the blood. You can't feel well until this is corrected. But do it gently—not with a bowel irritant. And do it regularly—one Cascaret a day. Coax the weak bowels—don't drive them. Just try a 10 cent box of Cascarets.

SEATS ARE WIDE AND ROOMY

It is a genuine pleasure to enjoy the comforts of wide and roomy seats (always room for the little ones) and is only one of the many worthy features of the DEERE VEHICLES

Other important points worthy of mention are the metal corners on bodies, dash braces, selected hickory wheels, and bodies with extra heavy oval panels and extra heavy shafts, together with a superior quality of buggy poles and hicks, made of special grade of hickory, finished the same as the vehicle.

A cordial invitation is offered you to inspect our line of DEERE VEHICLES which is now ready in our warehouse.
